

Nathan Saunders is the Associate Director for Library Specialized Collections at Randall Library. As a former high school teacher, he works to connect unique primary resources to local schools' curricular needs and to state social studies standards.